COCo (the Centre Community Organizations) is a charitable organization whose mission is to help build a more socially just world by supporting the health and well-being of community organizations in Québec. COCo has been committed to centering anti-oppression at all levels of the organization since 2010 and combat oppression in all its forms. On social media, COCo aims to maintain a respectful and caring environment where everyone feels respected and considered. As such, we do not tolerate:

- comments that are offensive, hateful, defamatory, racist, sexist, xenophobic, threatening, insulting, abusive or vulgar.
- comments intended to expose members of the COCo community to hatred or contempt on the grounds of race, origin, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age or physical or mental disability.
- personal attacks or settling of scores.
- comments or attempts to reveal personal or confidential information about COCo staff or members of the COCo community. It is also forbidden to share the identity or contacts of a COCo member without his/her/them consent.
- publications that are propagandistic, provocative, incite threats or harassment.
- comments or publications that seek to discredit the work of COCo and its collaborators without serious foundation.

If your comment falls into one of these categories, COCo reserves the right, without prior notice, to:

- hide your comment.
- remove your comment from the platforms used.
- report, suspend, ban or block your account in accordance with the procedures set out by the various social media platforms.
- delete any sensitive information in the event of racist, hateful or discriminatory comments.
- remove your access to our pages or our community.

COCo carefully reads all comments and publications, and monitors all posted messages. We reserve the right not to reply to certain messages in certain cases.
